I. Reason for issuing stock acquisition rights as stock options

By providing an incentive to enhance awareness of shareholder-focused management among the Company’s directors, the purpose is to further enhance morale and the desire to contribute to improved performance in the medium to long term, thereby leading to increased corporate value.

3. Class and number of shares underlying stock acquisition rights

However, after the stock acquisition rights allotment date stipulated in Item 12 below (hereinafter, the “Allotment Date”), in the event that the Company carries out a stock split of its common stock (including gratis allotment of its common stock; the same applies whenever a stock split is mentioned hereinafter) or a reverse stock split, the Number of Shares to Be Granted shall be adjusted based on the formula below, and any fraction of less than 1 share that occurs as a result of the adjustment shall be discarded.

Number of Shares to Be Granted after adjustment =
Number of Shares to Be Granted before adjustment × Ratio of stock split or reverse stock split

The Number of Shares to Be Granted after adjustment shall be applied on the date following the record date (or the effective date if no record date is stipulated) or later in the case of a stock split, and on the effective date or later in the case of a reverse stock split. However, in the event of a stock split that is conditional upon the approval of a proposal to reduce the surplus amount and increase capital or reserve at an Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting, if a date prior to the date on which the applicable Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting ends is taken as the record date for the stock split, the Number of Shares to Be Granted after adjustment shall be retroactively applied on the date following the record date at least one day after the applicable Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting ends. Furthermore, in the event that the Company carries out a merger or corporate split or in other cases where an adjustment of the Number of Shares to Be Granted is necessary pursuant to such circumstances, the Company may adjust the Number of Shares to Be Granted as appropriate within a reasonable range.

When adjusting the Number of Shares to Be Granted, the Company shall provide a notification or report about the necessary matters to each party holding stock acquisition rights (hereinafter, the "Stock Acquisition Rights Holders") indicated in the stock acquisition rights register by the date preceding the date that the Number of Shares to Be Granted after adjustment will be applied. However, in the event that it is not possible to provide a notification or report by the date preceding the date of application, then the Company shall promptly provide a notification or report after that date.

4. Value of assets to be contributed upon the exercise of stock acquisition rights
